"Let's walk together. In the pursuit of global progress, not a single person should be left out or left behind in any corner of the world, from East to West, from South to North."

— Kailash Satyarthi, Nobel Lecture

Barefoot and shirtless, Karim Sawadogo, 9, works with his uncle at a gold mine in Burkina Faso. He has been to school, but only for a while. "My dream," he says, "is to make enough money so I don't have to do this anymore."

2014 Regional Outlooks

Asia and the Pacific

Meaningful efforts:

- Strengthened punishments for crimes involving the worst forms of child labor.
- Increased numbers of trained personnel responsible for the enforcement of labor and criminal laws.
- Increased funding for educational programs targeting rescued child laborers.

Challenges and existing gaps:

- Weak legal frameworks for regulating the minimum age of employment and no minimum age for hazardous work in some countries and territories.
- Insufficient funding for labor and criminal law enforcement personnel.
- Significant barriers to education, particularly the lack of physical access and prohibitive costs to attend school.

Europe and Eurasia

Meaningful efforts:

- Expanded efforts to train labor inspectors and criminal investigators on the enforcement of laws related to child labor.
- Expanded access to education and increased recognition of the link between education and the prevention and elimination of exploitive child labor.

Challenges and existing gaps:

- Weak legal frameworks in countries that do not specify the types of hazardous work prohibited for children.
- Insufficient human and financial resources allocated to the enforcement of child labor laws.
- Unequal access to education for minorities and other disadvantaged children.

Latin America and the Caribbean

Meaningful efforts:

- Expanded social and educational programs to improve school attendance for at-risk children.
- Strengthened legal protections against trafficking in persons.

- Implemented new institutional approaches for enforcing child labor laws.

Challenges and existing gaps:

- Lack of publicly available statistics on labor and criminal law enforcement efforts.
- Lapses in mechanisms and efforts to coordinate government efforts against child labor.
- Continued vulnerability of indigenous, Afro-descendant, and migrant children to the worst forms of child labor.

Middle East and North Africa

Meaningful efforts:

- Strengthened legal frameworks to address child labor.

- Expanded social programs to improve access to education.

Challenges and existing gaps:

- Weak enforcement of child labor legal protections.
- Lack of research or current data on child labor.
- Limited access to education and high drop-out rates for children, including both refugee and citizen children.

Sub-Saharan Africa

Meaningful efforts:

- Improved legal and policy frameworks.

- Increased availability of data on the worst forms of child labor.

- Improved coordination of government efforts.

Challenges and existing gaps:

- Limited adoption of hazardous work lists across the region.
- Significant barriers to accessing education, including costs, lack of universal birth registration, and physical and sexual violence in schools.
- Limited or weak labor inspection systems.
- Limited social protection policies and programs.
- Continued recruitment and use of children in armed conflict.
